

The HORNET BUZZ

HOMEcomings 2K17

By Shaelyn Bautista '18

October 9th-13th was homecoming in the hive. This exciting week was kicked off with rocket volleyball and powderpuff on Sunday night. The seniors ended up on top for both of those events. Monday everybody was dressed up for fake an injury day, the lunchtime game was freeze dance where senior Shannon Petersen was the winner. On Tuesday the winner's of the hallway decorating competition were announced, the juniors took fourth, sophomores third, freshman second, and the seniors took first! Wednesday the students dressed in crazy outfits for wacky Wednesday, also the homecoming court assembly and voting for king and queen took place that day.

The competition grew throughout the week with lunch time games and dress up days. During lunch on Friday the band performed our fight song to get students fired up for the pep assembly which took place later in the day. At the pep assembly students from each class competed in games set up by the student council. The results of the games was freshman in 4th place, sophomores in 3rd, juniors in 2nd, and seniors in 1st place! The homecoming parade was at 5:30 and showed each classes float and the homecoming court. At 7 the hornets took on the bluestreaks. After the game was the crowning of king and queen, Shannon Petersen was crowned king and Katie Dietz won queen. Following the crowning was the homecoming dance where students danced the night away.

I interviewed homecoming queen Katie Dietz to ask about her experience.

Q: What was your first thought after being named queen?

A: I was super excited!

Q: How does it feel to be royalty?

A: It's such an honor.

Q: What was your favorite part?

A: My favorite part was watching everyone throw powder!

FOOTBALL SEASON SO FAR

By Collin Brown '17

The 2017 football season started out with a bang win over our across town rival Jonesville. Since then it's been a rough ride throughout the season but we've all worked hard to overcome and stayed strong through it all as a team. The coaches have worked so hard to prepare night in and night out to provide us with the tools in our toolbox to get things done. It has been a rough go around but we're working our way through it as a team and a coaching staff.

Part of the reasoning behind the struggle this season maybe caused by the team switching to full house after being a spread team for the longest time and we've had to adapt to new plots and themes. We have a fantastic coaching staff that knows what they're doing and just want us to focus on one game at a time and that's what we're focused on doing and just enjoy it while we still can because it can be taken away from you in an instant.

As for if we were making the playoffs or not, we're not really focused on that right now. We are more so focused on the game of that week and taking it a day at a time. The coaching staff has in our heads that "Take every week in perspective as a championship week and learn the things that are going to make you successful in that game". I think we have all bought into that what they're trying to say and just taking it one day at a time. The most important thing is that we have fun out there and take the opportunity we have at hand and make the most out of it. We still have a chance to make the playoffs if we win out but we'll have to see what happens and continue to work as hard as we can to be successful each and everyday and the outcome is what it is.

Note: Tonight at 7:00 p.m. the Hornets play Columbia Central at home. Good luck Hornets.

MEET DR. RUSHING

By Andrew Bail '17

Dr. Rushing a busy man who teaches four classes every day at school. He enjoys teaching even when some of the students give him stress. He teaches symphonic band, Jazz band, middle school band, and E2020. He teaches at both the high school and the middle school every day. Dr. Rushing has been teaching at Hillsdale for a total of 18 years. It took him a little over 7 years of school to finally get his doctorate in music.

Recently I had the chance to ask him some questions about himself and the band. I asked him what was the hardest part about teaching his band classes and he replied with. "The middle schoolers have no idea what they are doing and the high school it is hard keeping track of 70 students at once." Then I asked him which class is your favorite to teach and he replied with. "Jazz band because they play the hardest music and teach them to improvise."

I also asked him stuff about the band in general like is the marching band better than last year and why he replied with. "it is hard to judge but they are playing the hardest music in years." I asked which students do you think have the most potential to grow as a musicians and why, he replied with. "I don't like to single people out, but there are two students who stand out, Jacob Roe and Chloe Deck, because they are both playing in Hillsdale College's band and have private lessons. So if you're interested in music or joining band go talk to him in the band room at lunch.

MEET NEW STUDENT - BLAKE BRYANT

By Katy Kempa '18

Moving schools can be a bit scary for anyone, but not for new student Blake Bryant. The junior class welcomed their new student with big arms. Blake is a transfer student from the familiar school of Hanover-Horton. He moved to Hillsdale due to family and friends. Knowing that he had family and friends attending Hillsdale High, such as cousin Justin Bernard, that made the new school transition a lot easier for him.

Hillsdale is truly receiving a spectacular athlete. Since Blake moved into the school district, that made him eligible to compete in games since the beginning of the year. Blake is a great asset to the hornet team playing fullback and safety. Other than having family and friends in Hillsdale, Blake moved to Hillsdale because he wanted a bigger school atmosphere. I asked Blake, "What is one class you are looking forward to taking and why?" his response was, "Hornet Power because I know most of the guys in that class and I really enjoy Mr. Curby."

Blake has another hobby on his hands. HE LOVES SHOES! The shoes have to be "strictly Jordans" though. His shoes are "the biggest asset" of his outfit. So when you see Blake in the hallway make sure to check out his Jordans for the day.

NEW HHS STUDENT SARAH KORN

By Hanna Korn '18

Sarah Korn is a new student at Hillsdale High School and is new to Hillsdale Public Schools. Sarah is really enjoying her first year at Hillsdale High School as a freshman. She is currently taking Biology, Health, Advanced Geometry, Art 1, and English 9. Her favorite class is art class. She enjoys creating art and having an artistic challenge with some of the projects. Her favorite teacher is Mr. Putnam. She enjoys taking biology with him because he gives them fun and educational projects to do and he makes the learning environment a fun place to be in. "He is very good at explaining things to me that I need help understanding." Sarah is really looking forward to taking Gym/PE and Essential Business Skills next semester. The biggest adjustment for Sarah was the size of the school and the long class periods.

Sarah is involved in BPA and the Interact Club. She is also a student-athlete and is currently on the Freshman Volleyball team. Sarah is still deciding between soccer and tack for a spring sport. At home, Sarah lives with her older brother and sister and has two cats, Simon and Rowan. She likes to spend time with her pets, listening to music, and hanging out with her friends. Sarah really enjoys eating and sleeping. Her favorite foods are fruit and spaghetti and meatballs. After she eats lunch and during fourth hour is when she feels like taking a quick nap. Sarah has a part-time job working for Beach Concessions and has been working there for almost two years.

Sarah has really enjoyed her time here at Hillsdale High School, despite the adjustments from her old school. She plans on staying active and involved with the school until graduation. She says she will strive for maintaining a good GPA and be consistent in completing school work. After high school, she plans on furthering her education at a college/university and becoming a teacher.

A NEW ADDITION TO HILLSDALE HIGH SCHOOL - XANDER SALLOWS

By Katelynn Britton '20

Xander Sallows is a new student to the Hillsdale High School family. He transferred from homeschooling, he is a freshman. He has gone to a public school before at Jonesville Community Schools. He likes going to public school better than being homeschooled because it's fun to hang out with his friends. Xander likes joining clubs and playing sports. He likes this school year because he is going to public school. He gets to play music, participate in clubs and play sports. Xander moved back to a public school because of the great music program Hillsdale Community Schools offers, chorale, choir, orchestra, jazz band, marching band, and symphonic band. He plays the saxophone in both the marching band and symphonic band and is a member of chorale. Some of his favorite classes are band and english. He sits in a seating chart for each one of his classes. Xander's most challenging teacher is Ms. Gramling.

He said the worst part of the school year is waking up so early in the morning, it took awhile to adjust. Xander likes that our high school's flexibility for us choosing our own classes that we want to take. He does not like waking up early to get ready for school. He is glad to be part of Hillsdale High School.

MEET AUSTIN HARRIS

By Emily Pachoud '18

I had the opportunity to interview Junior Austin Harris. He is a transfer this year from Kentucky. He has been doing well in Michigan, but he misses Kentucky a lot. When I asked what he missed most about his old home, he quickly answered, "All of it." He did, however, say that he preferred that Michigan is not as humid. According to Austin, Hillsdale High School was easy to adjust to because he went to a public high school in Kentucky with about 600 kids in it. The only big difference for him about HHS is the schedule, for in Kentucky he had 7 classes a day instead of 5. His favorite class is Hornet Power, and his other classes include Algebra 2, Statistics & Probability, Test Prep, and Government & Economics. Algebra 2 is the hardest class he is in, according to him. His favorite teacher is Mr. Tucker, but he definitely didn't answer that way just because Mr. Tucker was nearby as the interview was being conducted. He also likes Mr. Lemerand and Mr. Curby due to having them as both coaches and teachers.

He is currently on the football team, and he plans on doing wrestling in the winter. His favorite thing about Hillsdale is the football team, because, he says, "We just have each other's backs." Outside of school, he enjoys fishing, as well as archery. In fact, he was on the archery team at his old school. He is disappointed that Hillsdale does not have an archery team, for he made it to the state competition in Kentucky.

MEET GABRIEL ALLEY

By Makenna Pann '18

Gabriel Alley is a Freshman transfer student from Camden-Frontier Schools. When I asked what he missed, he responded with "the size and how quiet it is". He admitted it was very different coming from a much smaller school to Hillsdale, but he likes having a bigger group of interactive friends. He also mentioned that Hillsdale has much more classes that he enjoys compared to Camden, and he appreciates the fact that the school is only one story and bigger.

Gabriel also admitted though, it would take some time getting used to and he enjoys having many friends. He actually mentioned that was one of the reasons he transferred to Hillsdale. Gabriel enjoys playing sports with his friends and he knew Hillsdale was very successful in sports. I asked what class was his favorite and which class he had here and not at Camden, he responded with "BPA". He enjoys BPA because it's a more interactive class which he had none of at Camden as well, he likes the idea of business and he also likes the class in general.

Out of curiosity, I asked who Gabriel's favorite teacher at Hillsdale is and why, he answered "Mrs. Duff, she helps you if you ask for it, and she's very interactive with her students. Her instructions are clear." Then, I asked who his favorite teacher was at Camden and he answered, "Mr. Slusher, he is funny and he made science fun, now I like science." Overall, he says that he likes the size of the school and the people in it and he is very glad that he transferred to Hillsdale High School.

FIND YOUR GRIND CONFERENCE

By Virginia Brown '17

On Tuesday, 18 students from Hillsdale High School attended the "Find Your Grind" Conference at Michigan State University. Overall, there were roughly 6,500 students and teachers from various schools who attended. The conference consisted of three different speakers who encouraged students and teachers to make a change within their schools.

The first speaker was Dr. Phil Campbell, a principal in Tennessee, the second was Mike Smith, founder of "Skate for Change," an organization that provides food and clothing for the homeless, and the third was "Dingo," a professional skateboarder and snowboarder. All three speakers spoke about a student's character rather than their academic ability and how they can make a change within their school and their community. They emphasized the importance of being a good person and doing good deeds for the betterment of society rather than doing it for a college resume or to receive the glory.

Dr. Phil Campbell provided many different options to bring about positive change in the school system. A few of the things he mentioned were throwing a prom for special needs students, painting the bathrooms to look nice, teachers being less strict and digging deeper into why a student acts out, and more. Mike Smith motivated students to make a change in their schools, communities, and other people's lives. When Brylee Boyd was asked what she thought of the conference overall, she said, "It was good. I liked the first speaker. They had a lot of good points and good ideas for things to do around our school." Christian Jones said his favorite part was "when he [Mike Smith] called us out saying how there's talkers and doers and wishers. It kinda showed me where I was and that's where I didn't want to be. I was the wisher. I wanted to be a doer." The conference was helpful in a variety of ways and gave students inspiration for becoming involved in something bigger than themselves.

colleges or universities. There is a lot of information to fill out on the common app, but it is nice because you can send it to as many colleges as you would like. Not every college accepts the common application though. Before you fill out the common application, make sure that colleges you are interested in, accept the common app. Another way to apply to colleges, is to go to the college or university's website and apply on their website. This way can be easier, if you know that is where you want to go, or you don't want to do the common application. Some colleges will require you to write an essay up to 650 words. You want to make sure you do a good job on this essay because they will take a good look at it. Also, some colleges charge an application fee, which is usually around $40, although there are special days where the colleges will waive the fee.

PREPARING FOR LIFE AFTER HIGH SCHOOL

By: MaCayla Bisher '18

Senior year is filled with many emotions starting with your last first day of school to playing your last game in the gym you have made so many memories in. Your last year of high school may have many sad moments but it is also filled with happy times as well. A lot of seniors are involved in clubs or sports teams that allow their high school years to be fulfilling. Many people claim that the best years of their life were in high school but life continues after. What makes high school so great and what happens after?

Seniors have a lot going on in their last year of high school preparing for college. Many perks of this year are the advantages the students get to prepare. The high school's Future Corps team tries to prepare the students for life after high school. They hold several events throughout the school year such as How to Pay For College Night and FAFSA Filing Party. The hopes of these events are to promote some secondary education options beside just college

COLLEGE APPLICATION MONTH

By Bryce Drews '18

Attention seniors! October is a very important month for us. October is college application month across the country. If you plan on going to college, it is extremely important for you to apply to colleges you are interested in attending. The earlier you apply, the better chance you have of getting accepted to the college. The common app is a helpful website if you are planning to apply to multiple for those students who chose not to go that route. Hillsdale High School has many other ways of preparing students for college.

Many students dual enroll at Hillsdale College or Jackson to get a step ahead and get a feel for college rigor. Other students starting Junior year decide to go the tech center and start to gain training for the career field they are interested in. There are downsides as well to all the amazing memories and resources that help the students get along. The thought that this is the last year with the people you spent growing up with is sad. Parting ways and moving past this small world is refreshing but scary but I believe there is no better place to prepare you than Hillsdale.

SELF HELP

By Nate Erts '17

On October 12, we attended an assembly on mental illness. The speakers talked about seeking help when you need it.

We all need some help, and today I talked to coach Jerry Curby about how you should focus on more than just your physical health, but your mental health too. I asked him what he does to keep his mind as healthy as his body. He responded, "I have begun doing regular yoga, about 6 days a week. It allows me to take time to get centered and quiet when I leave I'm relaxed."

Then I asked him what could be an easy daily activity to stay healthy, both mind and body, and he said, "try to do things that help other people, then you are not just focus on you."

ADVANTAGES OF DUAL ENROLLMENT

By McKenzie Firrone '18

In Hillsdale High School there are a lot of students who dual enroll for their education. Some students dual enroll at Hillsdale College and some at Jackson College. Both are great colleges to get the next level of education you need. Students that are enrolled at Hillsdale College go to the college campus for their classes. Students enrolled at Jackson College go to the Jackson College-Clyde LeTarte Hillsdale Center for their classes. I interviewed Senior, Chloe Page on dual enrollment.

Q: Where do you dual enroll at?

A: Jackson College at the LeTarte Center.

Q: What college class are you currently taking?

A: Intro to Psychology

Q: What are your advantages of dual enrollment?

A: I get college credits and I enjoy the college environment.

As you can see, dual enrollment is a great thing to do once you get all your high school requirements done. It allows you to get the feel of the college environment and helps with responsibility before you go off on your own. Another advantage of dual enrollment is that it is free for any student who decides to dual enroll. Unless you do not pass your class, then you have to pay a fee for the class you did not pass. Dual enrollment is a great thing that everyone should do.

CAPTAIN HOFFMAN

By Terrontino Grant '18

Teagan Hoffman the captain of the 2017-2018 Hillsdale varsity soccer team after suffering an injury that took a chunk out of his playing time during season. Teagan also a huge factor on the track team was frightened with this injury doubting his return. The injury happening last track season, took the rest of the track season to recover. Thankfully he has had a full recovery, he is back to training like a stud. The team believes their record wouldn't be the same without Teagan. Teagan has high hopes for his season stats, already on the top for tackles, he is in third for goals in season.

Teagan trains really hard and puts his best effort into everything he does all state in track and is striving for all league. Ethan York says "Teagan has a really good work ethic I really look up to him when I'm down. Teagan always has a good attitude and pushes everyone to be the best. Teagan lives with no worries and is excited for this track season and is exceeding his expectations this soccer season.

Teagan says the team has a lot of heart and they don't quit even when they took a beating from the Colts of the Hillsdale Academy. "I've been working extremely hard and so has the team, we are really excited to make a deep run in the playoffs", stated Teagan. Teagan compliments York in the game of soccer as both of them are really adequate and fast at learning new ways to be better all around and help the team. We are all excited to see Teagan and the Hornets continue to be the Hard Knocks of the league, as us athletes and people in the stands watch the Hornet grow under the lead of the Hornets.

NEW ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

By Julissa Torres '18

This year Hillsdale High School has welcomed a new staff member, Mr. Pratt, the athletic director. Mr. Pratt was a special education teacher and coached wrestling for the past eleven years at Springport. He shows his dedication for his job by traveling an hour and five minutes to and from work. That is two hours and ten minutes round trip! I interviewed him and asked how his experience has been since he was hired.

The first question I asked him was, "Why did you decide to apply at Hillsdale High School?" His response was, "I have been searching for an opportunity to work in the athletic administration, preferably as an athletic director. Hillsdale had an opening so I decided to apply here." The next question I asked was, "Is there anything you would like to achieve?" He replied with, "I'd like to bring a lot of success here. Some of the girl programs struggle, so we want to start getting solid coaches in those areas who can continue to grow those programs to be as successful as some of the other men's programs. So there's some parity and equity in there." The last question I asked him was, "What is your favorite part about the job?" His response was, "I really like being involved in the athletic part, and involved with the kids and your guys' success. It's a lot of fun to experience that with you, but also to be busy and be involved.”

Mr. Pratt got right on the job when he was hired. From the moment he gets to the school to when he leaves he is doing something. He is a nice guy who likes to see kids be successful in academics as well as in sports. Some kids that do know him already say he is very approachable. So if you are by the office, make sure to stop in and say hello to our new athletic director.

OFF SEASON ATHLETICS

By Joe Wilcox '18

Off season athletics are a huge part to hornet success, which is a common thing in hornet history. Off season athletics is training done by an individual that will help that individual in season. This Usually includes lifting weights, participating in some kind of club or travel team, or joining an AAU team. Hornet Power is a class teaching physical education and also helping all hornets to be successful physical-wise. This class is taken all year and helps tremendously. It makes off season training every season.

Some hornets who don't have Hornet Power still get in their off season training. A few of the hornets lift weights at local gyms around the city. Hornets always find a way to get in their reps. For example, the basketball team has been very good for the past 15 years, just due to hornets always getting in extra reps even after practice or games. Hornets will forever succeed as long as off season athletics is still a big part of the school.

FATHER SON DUO!

By Sam Nash '18

There has been a change in Hillsdale High School's Tennis program. Anders Moore (team captain) wants to change the way the tennis team played and practice. "We just haven't been playing the way we need to and it is disappointing the team." The team's effort did go up but not because of little Richard instead his father Big Richard turned the program around. Mr. Moore (Anders'

Father) is the greatest tennis player ever to go through HHS going to states and going to Quarter Finals.

When asked about how it feels to live in his father's tennis shadow he gave me the answer anyone would say trying to follow in a great tennis players footsteps. "It's hard knowing I'll never be good as my dad was but I have to overcome it and do me". Mr. Moore was so good that they wanted to retire his tennis uniform but he declined respectfully. "I don't play for the name on the back of the uniform I play for the team on the front". These words are most fitting for the greatest player and greatest leader to ever play HHS tennis.

Anders plays for more than himself when he steps out of the court he plays for his family and a special higher power that he was willing to share with me. "I don't just play for me and my family I play for Rafael Nadal he changed my life and helped me through tough time." Rafael Nadal is Anders' favorite tennis player and role model. His favorite Rafa match was in 2008 when Rafa beat Roger Federer in the Wimbledon Finals. "It was very special to me watching my hero win every time I feel weak playing I think of Rafa and he gives me strength". With the New coaching with Mr. Moore and Anders inner strength the Hornets are going to have a special season.

COMING SPRING 2018

By: Emma Hammel '18

National Honor Society is an organization that serves to recognize those students who have shown excellence in the areas of scholarship, service, leadership, and character. This nation-wide program began in 1921 and came to HHS around 1930. Hillsdale High School's NHS is made entirely of seniors who qualify by exemplifying the qualities stated above. Every year the students involved create a group project to raise funds to allow the program to continue each year. For the 2017-2018 school year, the seniors have decided to do a fun color run in the spring.

In order to have the best fun run possible, the NHS students had to raise money to purchase the materials necessary. To raise this money, NHS went through The Popcorn Factory™, a fundraising program where half the money sold goes to NHS. Each student had to sell at least one hundred dollars worth of popcorn in order to raise a good amount of money. The fun run will include colored powder, T-shirts, and food afterwards. More details to come!

Mark your calendars for spring 2018 to have the race of your life! The path will go down Baw Beese Trail and end at one of the parks. Those who choose to buy a shirt will have a memento once it's over to always remember running with their friends and having a blast simultaneously.

FALL FASHION

By Chloe Page '18

Every season has its clothing trends, but every year fall fashion seems to be everyone's favorite. From sweaters to flannels and short boots to tall boots, the fashion in fall can vary. Fall season clothing can be really simple falls colors or you can wear patterns, it all just depends on the person. But, every fall fashion season there's certain trends that make it different than any other year.

This year, some fall fashion trends so far have been embroidery, ruffle sleeves, and denim jackets. My personal favorite is embroidery. There's many more fashion trends that are popular this year. One of them is Crocs, as Lauren Baker says, "Crocs are the way to go for a fashionable, comfy, and functional shoe." She says they are the "go-to" shoe.

I interviewed MaCayla Bisher to ask her a few questions on her thoughts about fall fashion:

What is your favorite season for clothing?

Fall because there is more options for outfits.

What is your favorite fall outfit you have?
My ripped jeans and cream white sweater with a black and brown vest and her Alex and Ani bracelets.

What is your favorite fall fashion trend this year?

Denim jackets

Fall fashion has so many options to wear cute clothing and it is everyone's favorite season for clothing trends!

CHESS CLUB

By Brandon Torres '18

Are you ready to stimulate the brain? If you're into strategy and like to keep that mind active, chess club is perfect thing for you. Not only is chess fun to play, but you're thinking at the same time, analyzing your opponents movements, and being able to come up with a counter attack. If you have never played chess before, don't worry, in chess club there are players who can teach you the basic movements of the pieces and later can teach you more advanced techniques. You'll go from getting Scholar's mated like a rookie to castling and doing en passants like a pro!

Mr. Tucker is the teacher who runs the chess club and it is held in his room during lunch. He is a great chess mentor and can help you improve your game, all you need to do is ask. Anybody is welcome and he has multiple chess boards, so if you're eager to play, you won't have to wait. Get your friends to join you there during lunch and play some chess! Also there is a ranking system, this gives you a number representing your skill level. For example, 700 is usually beginner, 1000 intermediate, and 1200 is advanced. If you play a ranked match and either win or lose, there is a chess ranking calculator on Mr. Tucker's page to calculate your new score. Your rank score helps Mr. Tucker determine your spot in chess tournaments if you decide to play in one. Yes I said tournaments! The one verse one tournament is usually the first one that is held. There is different brackets for different skilled players. Sometimes he holds a tournament for a game called Bug house which is two versus two. It's a fun and complicated game. So come at lunch and join the chess club!

school because you get to do carpentry, plumbing, heating and cooling, and electrical wiring of a house. Building houses gives you the chance to learn other things that you may need in life, also kids love the exhilarating process. Mr. Eggleston is now in charge of house building. He makes the kids work hard and also makes it fun for the students. Juniors and Seniors are allowed in the class, with house building giving kids the opportunity to pursue in a certain career of their liking.

While interviewing Mason Fowler he said, "I enjoy house building, especially getting out of class and being able to work the other half of the day. Being able to do this special experience is very fun for me and my friends."
